

Table of content

Introduction	1
The gist of this book	1
An overview of scholarship on this play	3
Uncovering one's cards	5
Sources on warfare	9
Chapter 1
The context of Septem
The poet	15
The year 468/67	16
The Athenian theatre in 467	29
Pindar's F75 and Septem	36
Chapter 2
Scene and costumes
Setting the scene	49
The topography of Thebes conjured up by Septem	53
The costumes of Septem	58
Chapter 3
Mimesis of a commander at war
The many a threat faced by Eteocles	65
A shrewd statesman	66
A capable commander	68
A commander with an epic air about him	73
A strong personality	77
Chapter 4
Mimesis of war
An epic war	83

Similarities with fifth-century warfare	89
The contribution of the poet's imagination	103
The representation of the last day of war as a whole	106
Technical terms	111

Chapter 5

Seven pairs of speeches just before battle

The second episode	113
Verbal clues to the action	115
Probability in the mimesis of war and action sequence	124
Probability in tragic plots	129
Dramatic function of the second episode	133

Chapter 6

How a king goes to a duel

The text and staging of 675-719	137
---------------------------------	-----

Chapter 7

Unintentional mystification

Missing essential clues	145
Missing what could go without saying	150
Weighing options	151
The brothers' strife and moral stand	152
The wording of Oedipus' curse	155
'Iron' in the curse	159
The understanding of the curse	163
Eteocles' dreams	169

Chapter 8

Mystification as mimesis of the invisible

Perplexing Eteocles	175
Eteocles' irrationality	189
The working of the Curse-Erinys	193

Chapter 9

Mystifying hermeneutics

On the verge of the event	197
A Chalybs, sharp cruel Iron	201
After the events	209

Table of content	XI
Chapter 10
Mimesis in the exodos
Preliminary issues: interpolations and secondary chorus	217
Staging and fallen lines	223
Mimesis at its highest	225
Conclusions
Mimesis in Aeschylus	227
Appendix 1
The timing of Eteocles' first exit	229
Appendix 2
Author's translation of The Seven against Thebes	249
Bibliography	285
List of illustrations	319
General index	320
Index of quoted passages	330
Index of textual and exegetical contributions	348