

Invoices now available for online consultation

First release

A new feature of www.casalini.it allows registered users to access an online archive of invoices issued to their institution in PDF format, listed and organised by customer account code. A link from the drop-down “orders” menu on our homepage takes the user directly to the invoice archive. Users may search single invoices by number and request a copy to be sent by email, should the required invoice be unavailable online.

Additional functions to filter searches and order lists of results will be added to the site in the near future.

For books that have been supplied, invoices may also be downloaded directly from the “order status” record of each title.

We invite you to test this new feature and would welcome any comments and suggestions you may wish to make. Please contact us at info@casalini.it.
